I would like to thank Susan, Monica and Laura for their wonderful administrative support! They have outdone themselves again despite all the challenges that COVID-19 has thrown at us this year. I am very grateful for their continued support!
Kareshma helped me a great deal accessing SAS at the beginning of the program. She spent a lot of her time, often on evenings and weekends, and was very patient with me.
Dr. Powell spent a great deal of extra time with me to ensure I understood the content in PREV 620. She was incredibly giving of her time and energy throughout the semester.

Helen Powell
Shan Li and Leslie Norris deserve kudos. They kept my laboratory running productively and financially afloat, while I was unexpectedly absent. I was in a motorcycle accident in July and have been out of work for many months. Shan completed a remarkable amount of work. She completed projects that were ongoing, she reached out to collaborators, detected and solved problems in our collaborators laboratory. She deserves major kudos.

The MPH Program is thrilled to have Keiona and Shreenidhi as our two graduate assistants this year. They are both creative, pleasant, diligent and willing to jump in to help whenever they are needed.

Keiona Jones

Shreenidhi Sharma
I’d like to give kudos to Tiffany Smith. She has been so patient and kind as well as knowledgeable when it comes to questions about Quantum Financials. Her calm assistance has helped me immeasurably.

Tiffany Smith
Kudos to our fantastic EHG and Gerontology graduate students!
Thanks to Jon Shinnick for the great care he gives the Epidemiology and Human Genetic Program students and faculty.

Jon Shinnick
Many thanks to Joella Trenchard for all her support and help for the Gero Division.

Joella Trenchard
Thanks to Justine Golden for keeping the Gerontology Program running so smoothly.

Justine Golden
Thanks to Lauren Schmand for supporting us and being such a whiz at scheduling all our Gero meetings.

Lauren Schmand
Kudos to Dr. Sunita Shakya for her expert analyses, balancing work and life with twins, and for successfully defending her doctoral dissertation.

Sunita Shakya
I want to thank Kassy Santoni for assisting with faculty recruitment for the Division of Cancer Epidemiology. I do not know where we would have been without her. Kassy has arranged candidate seminars and candidate interviews with faculty and staff from within and outside of EPH. She has done this under her own initiative with minimal guidance from me. And I am happy to say, everything came off flawlessly. The candidates were impressed not only by Kassy’s organizational skills, but also by her cheerful disposition. Kassy took on this assignment in addition to her regular duties with a positive attitude and has excelled. If we are lucky to recruit one of the candidates, it will be partly because of Kassy’s efforts.

Kudos to Dr. Ann Gruber-Baldini for being an awesome supervisor. It has been an amazing 2 years working under her learning, exploring and growing.

Ann Gruber-Baldini
To Tiffany Smith, for knowing how to submit honorarriums and other payments and for patiently teaching us.
To Rhea, for being so flexible and organized these last 2 years. You are great working with the participants.

Rhea Mehta
To Jessica Brown, for making me laugh, especially these last 2 years. And, for being so dang conscientious.

Jessica Brown
To Joella, for being Joella and always being there.

Joella Trenchard
Kudos to Debbie Stevens (GECO) for always getting to the ICU before the sun is up to identify eligible patients for enrollment in our studies. Your hard work and ability to build relationships with the staff are greatly appreciated!

Debbie Stevens
Kudos to the Study Team for completing Enrollment in the Diabetic Foot Study!!!

Georgia Papaminas (our ace recruiter) Gwen Robinson Alison Lydecker and everyone who helped with wipe repackaging (intervention blinding)
Thank you for going the extra mile, your willingness to assist and being a necessary resource in our department.

Thank you for your expertise and your help navigating Quantum.

Tiffany Smith
We are extremely grateful to Kassy Santoni for her support of the Research Practicum course. This is already helping things run more smoothly and we appreciate all her time and efforts!

Kassy Santoni
Gwen Robinson for expertly learning new skills to manage and advance projects
THANK YOU
Leslie Norris for keeping us organized and on track with grants and contracts

Leslie Norris
KC Coffey for joining the leadership team of the Statewide Prevention and Reduction Collaborative (SPARC) during COVID-19 - a joint initiative from MDH, Johns Hopkins, and UMB to guide acute care hospitals for infection prevention.
Kudos to Tiffany Smith for her willingness to learn the many aspects of payroll. She’s done a fabulous job navigating the HRM system, learning how to run and verify bi-weekly payroll reports, preparing employment contracts and routing new hires for payroll.
I would like to extend KUDOS to Erin Walton who recently joined the team of the Program in Health Equity and Population Health as the Program Director
https://www.medschool.umaryland.edu/programs/equity/Leadership/

She jumped in, hit the ground running, and brought with her enormous expertise/background in Health Equity and Community Engagement. She is truly a gem and so glad to have her on the team!

Erin Walton
Would like to thank Lisa Pineles for her continued outstanding work during covid especially while juggling a young baby at home.
Thank you
Would like to thank Michelle Newman for her outstanding work in person recruiting during Covid and for being a part of one of our most important studies ever.

Michelle Newman
Would like to thank Gwen Robinson for hard work and juggling with two young ones at home during the pandemic.
Would like to thank Leslie Norris for her ability to adapt during difficult times and her ability to keep striving to improve.
Kudos to Monica Martinez who was awarded a master of science in health sciences from the UMB Graduate School in Summer 2021.

Monica Martinez
We are extremely grateful to Kassy Santoni for her support of the Research Practicum course. This is already helping things run more smoothly and we appreciate all her time and efforts!

Kassy Santoni
Thank you for keeping on top of my multiple grants and reminding my collaborators to submit necessary financial reporting info.

KUDOS FOR YOU

Laura Seipp
Thank you for your careful attention to all of the administrative responsibilities for the residency program. I’ve loved the many times this year that you have told me “already did it.”
