UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

CHILDREN'S MENTAL HEALTH FUND

Since 1965, the Child and Adolescent Psychiatry programs at the University of Maryland have been dedicated to the emotional, mental and behavioral well-being of children and teens throughout Maryland. We work closely with families to develop treatment plans that meet their unique needs. We partner with our community to improve access to quality services aimed at helping children, adolescents and their families meet their full potential. We use best practices to evaluate and treat children and adolescents with problems ranging from mild emotional and behavioral difficulties to severe psychiatric illnesses.

Your gift will help our programs maintain the quality of services, training and research needed to improve the lives of children and their families affected by mental health concerns.
