What’s the Buzz?

Kudos to our colleagues who are experts in their fields and give their all to represent the School of Medicine!

- Sally Ademamowo, MBBS, MSc, ScD, Assistant Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, presented “Mycoplasma in the Vaginal Microbiota and Risk of Persistent Human Papillomavirus Infection” at the George Mason University, College of Science, Department of Biology Seminar, on November 7.

- James Borrelli, PhD, UMANRRT, Postdoctoral Fellow, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, was an invited speaker at the University of Maryland at College Park in the Mechanical Engineering Department. He presented, “Stips, Trip, Falls, and Crutches” on Thursday, November 9.

- Peter Bowman, PT, DPT, FAAOMPT, Assistant Professor and Roy Film, PT, DPT, OCS, FAAOMPT, Assistant Professor, both from the Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, recently attended the American Academy of Orthopaedic Manual Therapists 2017 Conference, which was held in Salt Lake City October 18–22.

- Several faculty members participated and served as chairs on sessions during the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene’s annual meeting in Baltimore, which took place November 3–9. Among them were: Matthew Cannon, PhD, Research Associate, Department of Microbiology and Immunology; Wilbur Chen, MD, MS, Associate Professor, Department of Medicine; Karen Kotloff, MD, Professor, Department of Pediatrics and Head of the Division of Pediatric Infectious Diseases and Tropical Medicine; Miriam Laufer, MD, Associate Professor, Department of Pediatrics and Director of the Division of Malaria Research; Kathleen Neuzuil, MD, MPH, FIDSA, Professor, Department of Medicine and Director of the Center for Vaccine Development; Christopher Plowe, MD, MPH, FASMH, the Frank M. Calia, MD Professor of Medicine and Founding Director, Institute for Global Health; Marcelo Szttein, MD, Professor, Department of Pediatrics; Milagritos Tapia, MD, Associate Professor, Department of Pediatrics; and Shannon Takala, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Medicine.

- Reha Erzurumlu, PhD, Professor, Department of Anatomy and Neurobiology, presented a plenary lecture on “Neocortical Excitation/Inhibition Balance in Autism Spectrum Disorders and Potential Pharmacological Intervention” at the 24th National Pharmacology Conference held October 17 in Trabzon, Turkey.

- Several faculty members from the Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science gave presentations during the American Physical Therapy Association’s 2017 Educational Leadership Conference, which was held October 13–15 in Columbus. They were: Karen Gordes, PT, PhD, DScPt, Assistant Professor; Linda Horn, PT, DScPt, MHS, GCs, NCS, Assistant Professor; Laurie Neely, PT, DPT, NCS, Assistant Professor; and Sandy McComble Waller, PT, PhD, MS, NCS, Associate Professor.

- Michael Grasso, MD, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Emergency Medicine, moderated a panel at the Fall Symposium of the American College of Radiology on November 6.

- On October 29, Henok Haileyes and Molly O’Neal of the Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science DPT Class of 2019, performed balance and falls screenings as part of the Health Matters wellness fair at Beth Israel Synagogue. Under the supervision of PTS faculty member Cara Felter, PT, DPT, MPH, Assistant Professor, they provided screenings for over 20 community-dwelling adults.

- Brian Johnson, OTR/L, PhD Candidate, Graduate Research Assistant, Department of Physical Therapy & Rehabilitation Science, was an invited speaker at The Medical College of Wisconsin’s Brain Injury Research Day, which was held on October 26 in Milwaukee. At this event, he also presented a poster with Kelly Westlake, PhD, MSc, PT, Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Therapy & Rehabilitation Science. Separately, Mr. Johnson gave an oral presentation on November 5 at the Baltimore Underground Science Space’s 5th Science Slam Event, co-hosted with Project Bridge.

- Judy LaKind, PhD, Adjunct Associate Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, presented “Transparent and Systematic Reviews of Exposure Data in Environmental Epidemiology: Approaches and Case Studies,” and “Critical and Systematic Evaluation of 2,4-Dichlorophenoxyacetic Acid (2,4-D) Exposure Data: Quality and Generalizability for Human Assessments,” at the International Society of Exposure Science Annual Meeting on September 17–18 in Durham, NC. Dr. LaKind also presented her research on “Exposure Data in Environmental Epidemiology: Limitations and Quality Assessments,” at the European Food Safety Authority Meeting: Use of Epidemiological findings in Regulatory Pesticide Risk Assessment, in Parma, Italy on November 21.

- Christa Nelson, PT, DPT, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, presented a continuing education course on November 11 during the American Physical Therapy Association of Maryland’s annual conference in College Park, MD.

- Kathleen Neuzuil, MD, MPH, FIDSA, Professor, Department of Medicine and Director, Center for Vaccine Development, participated in a live the Maryland Public TV interview on November 20 with Jay Menaker, MD, Professor, Department of Surgery, titled “Influenza—What’s New in 2017, and Vaccination Recommendations.”

- Horea Rus, MD, PhD, Professor, Department of Neurology, and Alexandru Tatrom, MD, Post-doctoral Fellow, presented “Histone deacetylase SIRT1 Mediates Csb-9-induced Cell Cycle in Oligodendrocytes” at the 7th Joint ECTRIMS-ACTRIMS Meeting in Paris that was held October 25–28.

- Karen Sack, Department Administrator, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, attended the Society of Research Administrators International 2017 Annual Meeting in Vancouver, Canada, October 14–18. She served as Ambassador, Co-Chair of the Vendor Committee, and Co-Chair of the Membership Committee for the Northeast Section. Ms. Sack is on the Planning Committee for the Combined Sections Meeting, Northeast/Western Section meeting in Boston, March 2018. She is also the Track Chair for the Sponsored Program Planning, Development and Deliveries Committee.
Grants & Contracts

Congratulations to our very productive faculty on their recent grants and contracts!

- Jon Mark Hirshon, MD, MPH, PhD, Professor, Departments of Emergency Medicine and Epidemiology and Public Health, is the principal investigator of “Wound Fluid as a Regulator for Extracellular Matrix Remodeling andRecurrence in Inflammatory Breast Cancer,” a study funded by the Fogarty International Center at NIH in the amount of $322,080. The purpose of this project is to seek biological factors in wound fluid that foster dissemination of carcinoma cells throughout the body, making the disease resistant to radiation and chemotherapy. The research will be conducted by faculty at Cairo University and Ain Shams University in Egypt, working in collaboration with Dr. Hirshon as well as colleagues at MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. The study period began in September 2017 and extends to mid-2019.

- Margaret Lauerman, MD, Assistant Professor, the Center for Shock, Trauma and Anesthesiology Research and National Study Center, received a five-year, $2.1 million grant for Crash Injury Research and Engineering Network (CIREN) from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, U.S. Department of Transportation.

- Victoria Marchese, PT, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, has received a $30,000 grant funded from the American Physical Therapy Association, Academy of Pediatric Physical Therapy for her project titled: “Examining a Fast Movement Approach to Pediatric Physical Therapy Intervention in Children and Adolescents that have Completed Medical Treatment for Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia.”

- Denise Orwig, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, received a $210,613 five-year subcontract from the University of Virginia for his proposed work on, “Early Life Interventions for Childhood Growth and Development in Tanzania.”

- Charlene Quinn, PhD, RN, FAAN, Associate Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, received a three-year, $106,666 subcontract from the University of Pennsylvania to study, “Clinical and Epidemiology and Public Health, was awarded a one-year, $15,951 grant from the National Institute on Disability, Independent Living, and Rehabilitation Research (NIDILRR). The three-year, $600,000 grant project is titled, “Efficacy of an Interactive Web-Based Home Therapy Program in the Recovery of Arm and Hand following Stroke: A Randomized Trial.”

- Sandy McCombe Waller, PT, PhD, MS, NCS, Associate Professor, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science was awarded a two-year, $7,255,921 grant from the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases” during the Third International Conference on Vaccines Research and Development in Washington, D.C. held Nov. 13-15.

- Kelly Westlake, PhD, MSc, PT, Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, participated in a live Maryland Public TV interview with Jay Menaker, MD, Professor, Department of Surgery, titled “Falls: A Leading Cause of Death and Disability” on October 23.

- Seven faculty members from the Department of Emergency Medicine were invited speakers at the 2017 Scientific Assembly of the American College of Emergency Physicians, which was held in Washington, DC, in October. They were: Michael Bond, MD, Associate Professor; Elizabeth Clayborne, MD, MA, Clinical Instructor; Mimi Lu, MD, Clinical Assistant Professor; Amal Mattu, MD, Professor; George Willis, MD, Assistant Professor; and Michael Winters, MD, Associate Professor.
Hats off to those who have been published!

Maria Baer, MD, Professor, and Danilo Perrotti, MD, PhD, Professor, both from the Department of Medicine; Shiv Kapoor, MBBS, Assistant Professor, Department of Pediatrics; Rena Lapidos, PhD, Associate Professor; Department of Medicine; Mario Scarpa, MD, Research Fellow; Department of Oncology; Rossana Trotta, PhD, Assistant Professor, and Eduardo Davila, PhD, Associate Professor, both from the Department of Microbiology and Immunology, were among the co-authors on “Concurrent Inhibition of PI3k and Flt3 Kinases Enhances Apoptosis of Flt3-Induced Acute Myeloid Leukemia Cells Through Increased McI-1 Proteasomal Degradation” in Clinical Cancer Research, 2017 Oct 26.

Jayaun Booth, PhD, Postdoctoral Fellow, Center for Vaccine Development (CVD). Robin Barnes, Health Care Provider, CVD, Seema Patil, MD, Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine, Claire Fraser, PhD, the Dean’s Endowed Professor and Director of the Institute for Genome Sciences, Bruce Greenwald, MD, Professor, Department of Medicine, and Marcelo Szeitlin, MD, Professor, Department of Pediatrics, were among the co-authors of “System and Terminal Ileum Mucosal Immunity Elicited by Oral Immunization with Ty21A Typhoid Vaccine in Humans” in Cellular and Molecular Gastroenterology and Hepatology, 2017 Nov.

Clayton Brown, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health; Elizabeth Klingaman, PhD, Adjunct Assistant Professor, Department of Psychiatry; and Julie Kreyenbuhl, PharmD, Associate Professor, Department of Psychiatry, were among co-authors on “Consumer Satisfaction with Antipsychotic Medication-Monitoring Appointments: The Role of Consumer-Prescriber Communication Patterns” in the International Journal of Psychiatry in Clinical Practice, 2017 Sep 17.

Qi Cao, BM, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Diagnostic Radiology and Nuclear Medicine, was among the co-authors of “From the Cover: Lung-Specific Overexpression of Constitutively Active JIK2 Induces Pulmonary and Systemic Inflammations but Not Hypothalamic Inflammation and Glucose Intolerance” in Toxicological Sciences, 2017 Nov.

Eric Cohen, MD, Professor, Department of Medicine; and Kim Hanley, PhD, Research Associate, Alex Bennett, Research Lead Specialist, Ann M. Farse, MS, Assistant Professor, and Thomas MacVittie, PhD, Professor, all from the Department of Radiation Oncology, were among the co-authors of “Acute and Chronic Kidney Injury in a Non-Human Primate Model of Partial-Body Irradiation with Bone Marrow Sparing” in Radiation Research, 2017 Oct 16.

Tejan Diwanji, MD, Resident, J.W. Snider, MD, Assistant Professor, and Pranshu Mohindra, MD, MBBS, Assistant Professor, all from the Department of Radiation Oncology, were among the authors of “Epidemiology, Diagnosis, and Optimal Management of Glioma in Adolescents and Young Adults” in Adolescent Medicine, Health, and Therapeutics, 2017 Sep.

Vasken Dilzianian, MD, Professor, Department of Diagnostic Radiology and Nuclear Medicine is the author on an Editor’s Page titled “Challenging Nuclear Cardiology Research: Stimulating Discovery, Validation and Clinical Relevance” in the Journal of Nuclear Medicine, 2017 Nov 16.

Richard Eckert, PhD, the John F.B. Weaver Distinguished Professor and Chair, Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, authored “Combination Cisplatin and Sulforaphane Treatment in Epidermal Squamous Cell Carcinoma” in NCI Nutrition Frontiers, 2017 Oct 31.

Aleta Frazier, MD, Clinical Professor, Department of Diagnostic Radiology and Nuclear Medicine, was the author of “Uncentric Versus Multicentric Castleman Disease” in Radiographics, 2017 Sep/Oct.

Michael Grasso, MD, PhD, Assistant Professor, and David Jerrard, MD, Associate Professor, both from the Department of Emergency Medicine, in collaboration with Clare Grasso, PhD, from UMBc’s Department of Computer Science and Electrical Engineering, co-authored “Prescriptions Written for Opioid Pain Medication in the Veterans Health Administration Between 2000 and 2016” in the Journal of Addiction Medicine, 2017 Nov/Dec.

Jack Guralnik, MD, PhD, MPH, Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, was a co-author on “Comparison of Self-Report Indices of Major Mobility Disability to Failure on the 400-Meter Walk Test: The LIFE Study” in The Journals of Gerontology A: Biological Sciences and Medical Sciences, 2017 Aug 9. Dr. Guralnik also authored “Dose of Physical Activity, Physical Functioning and Disability Risk in Mobility-Limited Older Adults: Results from the Life Study Randomized Trial” in PLoS One, 2017 Aug 9. Additionally, Dr Guralnik wrote “Femoral Artery Plaque Characteristics, Lower Extremity Collaterals, and Mobility Loss in Peripheral Artery Disease” in Vascular Medicine, 2017 Sep. Dr. Guralnik also authored “Functional Limitations Among Responders to the World Trade Center Attacks 14 Years After the Disaster: Implications of Chronic Posttraumatic Stress Disorder” in Journal of Traumatic Stress, 2017 Oct. Dr. Guralnik and Luigi Ferrucci, MD, PhD, Adjunct Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, were among co-authors on “Combining LDL-C and HDL-C to Predict Survival in Late Life: The InChianti Study” in PLoS One, 2017 Sep 28.

Isabel Jackson, PhD, Assistant Professor, and Zeljko Vujaskovic, MD, PhD, Professor, both from the Department of Radiation Oncology, were among the co-authors of “Targeted Metabolomics Identifies Pharmacodynamic Biomarkers for BTO 300 Mitigation of Radiation-Induced Lung Injury” in Pharmaceutical Research, 2017 October 2.

Adele Kaiser, MD, Assistant Professor, Department of Radiation Oncology, was among the authors of “Minimal Toxicity After Proton Beam Therapy for Prostate and Pelvic Nodal Irradiation: Results from the Proton Collaborative Group REG001-09 Trial” in Acta Oncologica, 2017 Oct 14. Dr. Kaiser was also among the co-authors of “Updated Survival Outcomes and Analysis of Long-Term Survivors from the MORE Study on Safety and Efficacy of Radioembolization in Patients with Unresectable Colorectal Cancer Liver Metastases” in the Journal of Gastrointestinal Oncology, 2017 Aug 8.

Karen Kotloff, MD, Professor, Department of Pediatrics and Head of the Division of Pediatric Infectious Diseases and Tropical Medicine, Myron Levine, MD, DTHP, the Simon and Beassie Grollman Distinguished Professor and Associate Dean for Global Health, Vaccinology and Infectious Diseases, and O. Colin Stine, PhD, Professor, Department of Epidemiology and Public Health, were among the co-authors of “Detection of Shigella in Direct Stool Specimens Using a Metagenomics Approach” in the Journal of Clinical Microbiology, 2017 Nov 8. Dr. Kotloff separately authored “Shigella Infection in Children and Adults: A Formidable Poe” in The Lancet Global Health, 2017 Dec 12. Dr. Kotloff also was among the authors of the 2017 Infectious Disease in Clinical Cancer Research, 2017 Oct 26.

Additionally, she co-authored “Developing an Integrative Treatment Program for Cancer-Related Fatigue Using Stakeholder Engagement—A Qualitative Study” in Integrative Cancer Therapies, 2017 Nov.

We applaud our colleagues on their recent appointments!

- Roy Film, PT, MPT, DPT, OCS, FAAOMPT, Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, was asked by The American Board of Physical Therapy Specialties to serve an additional two-year term as a member of the Specialization Academy of Content Experts for the Orthopedic Clinical Specialist exam. He will be extending his service through December 31, 2019.

- Margaret McCarthy, PhD, Professor and Chair of the Department of Pharmacology, was elected as a fellow of American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS).

- Laurie Neely, PT, DPT, NCS, Assistant Professor, Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science, was appointed by the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy Board of Directors to serve a three-year term on the Item Writing Task Force-PT.

- Alan Rathbun, PhD, MPH, was appointed Research Associate in the Department of Epidemiology and Public Health.

- Li-Qun (Larry) Zhang, PhD, Professor, was appointed Director of Research for the Department of Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science.

- Mark Rogers, PhD, PT, FAPTA, Professor and Chair, was the recipient of the George R. Hepburn Dynasplint Endowed Professorship in Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation Science.

- Shabnam Salimi, MD, MS, was appointed as a Research Associate in the Department of Epidemiology and Public Health.

- Richard Zhao, PhD, Professor and Division Head of Molecular Pathology, Department of Pathology, was invited to serve as an Expert Advisory Councilor for the Economy, Science and Technology Committee, the Oversea Chinese Affairs Office of the China State Council. The Committee consists of 96 domestic and overseas experts in natural and social sciences. His term is for three years.

We applaud the innovators among us!

- Richard Thompson, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, published a U.S. Patent no. 9,801,953,B2, “Methods and Compositions for Detecting Drusen and Predicting Age-Related Macular Degeneration.”
Honors & Awards

Congratulations to the following who have received honors!

- Donna Parker, MD, Associate Professor, Department of Medicine, received the 2019 Young Investigator Award from the American Society for Clinical Investigation, held in Washington, DC in October. The title of her presentation was “A Comparison of Three Sobering Center Screens Using a Prospective Cohort of Intoxicated Emergency Department Patients.”

- Minha J Siddiqui, MD, Assistant Professor, Department of Surgery, was awarded the SBUR Young Investigator Award on November 10, 2017. The SBUR Young Investigator Awards are given to SBUR members who are under the age of 45, within five years of their first faculty position, and have made significant contributions to Urologic Research.

- Dan Zandberg, MD, Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine, was selected to receive the 2018 Alliance Scholar Award regarding his submission on Phase II randomized trial of Avelumab plus Cetuximab vs. Cetuximab alone in advanced cutaneous squamous cell carcinoma of the skin (cSCC).

New Faculty

We welcome our new faculty!

- Gauri R. Khorjekar, MBBS, joined the Department of Diagnostic Radiology and Nuclear Medicine as an Assistant Professor in the Breast Imaging section. Dr. Khorjekar attended Terna Medical College and Hospital, Nerul, in New Bombay, India. She completed her internship in general surgery at the University of Maryland Medical Center and residencies in nuclear medicine at the Washington Hospital Center and diagnostic radiology at George Washington University Hospital, both in Washington, DC. She completed a fellowship in breast imaging and intervention, also at George Washington University Hospital.

- Martin Shlomi, MD, PhD, joined the Department of Medicine in Medicine Excellence in Medical Student Career Advising Advisor Award. She received this award at the Group on Student Affairs (GSA) National Business Meeting at the Association of American Medical Colleges meeting on Nov. 2.

- Pratik Patel, MD, Third-Year Emergency Medicine Resident, was honored with the award for Best Resident Research Abstract Presentation at the 2017 Scientific Assembly of the American College of Emergency Physicians, held in Washington, DC in October. The title of his presentation was “A Comparison of Three Sobering Center Screens Using a Prospective Cohort of Intoxicated Emergency Department Patients.” He collaborated in this work with his faculty mentor, Zachary Derman, MD, Assistant Professor, and Salman Leslom, MD, Research Scholar, both from the Department of Emergency Medicine.

- Stephen Schimpff, MD, Clinical Professor, Department of Medicine, was recently advanced to mastership in the American College of Physicians. This is a distinct honor as only about 50 fellows in the ACP are elected as Master each year from around the country out of a membership of about 150,000.

Many thanks to the following people who serve as your liaisons for the information you see in [36x402]Research Communications Network.

- Dr. Alfredo Garzino-Demo
- Dr. Robert Gallo
- Dr. Marzena Pazarz
- Dr. David Zalla
- Dr. Fabio Romerio

including the following: Alfredo Garzino-Demo, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Microbiology and Immunology, Head of the Laboratory of Virus Host Interaction, Division of Basic Science, for his dedication and persistence in HIV pathogenesis with therapeutic implications; Marzena Pazarz, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Pharmacology and Molecular Biology, Division of Cancer Vaccine Research, Institute of Human Virology, for her dedication, persistence and outstanding productivity to the field of HIV vaccine basic science; Fabio Romerio, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine, Division of Basic Science, Institute of Human Virology, for his dedication and persistence in unraveling functions of a new gene of HIV; Nicholas Stamatos, MD, Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine, Division of Clinical Care and Research, Institute of Human Virology, for his dedication and persistence to the science of human glycobiology as it relates to human infectious diseases and cancer; and David Zalla, PhD, Assistant Professor, Department of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Division of Basic Science, Institute of Human Virology, for his dedication and persistence in finding new infectious agents associated with cancers of humans.
